

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Conflict Conference (TCC) will hold its 2017 conference at the University of Texas at Austin on April 13-14, 2017. TCC is a multidisciplinary annual conference promoting the study of conflict and conflict resolution. We invite papers, panel proposals, and posters on any relevant topic such as apologies, advocacy, civic disputes, dispute resolution, emotions in conflict, peace, negotiation, reconciliation, mediation, restorative justice, politics, conflict management, environmental disputes, technologically mediated conflicts and ethics, as well as contexts for conflicts and disputes. With a broad focus on conflict and peace studies, TCC encourages participants across disciplinary fields to submit work ranging from localized social conflicts in interaction to large-scale policy issues. With several options for participation, TCC offers a breadth of perspectives that engenders productive dialogues for scholars and community members.

The DEADLINE for submissions is January 31st, 2018. Notices of acceptance will be sent shortly after.

PAPER PROPOSALS must include the author's name and institutional affiliation, the title of the paper, and an abstract of no more than 150 words for the program. In addition, proposals must include a 600 word extended abstract without personal information.

PANEL PROPOSALS must include a maximum 150-word abstract for the program, names, titles, and abstracts for each participant.

POSTERS must include the author's name and institutional affiliation, the title of the paper, and an abstract of no more than 150 words. Note that abstracts should be based on research that is clearly in progress (if not yet completed), with a well-formulated research question, and with a explicit description of the types of data used (if the work is empirical) and of the approach. For posters, a clear description of a research design may be acceptable, as this can lead to useful discussions in the early stages of a project. Documents must be attached to an email as a Word document. TCC welcomes submissions from students.

Please indicate student status in all paper proposals. Please send all proposals to TCC at TheConflictConference@gmail.com.

Conference events will be held on April 13-14, 2018 at the University of Texas at Austin campus. The conference will include two keynote speakers, panel presentations, and discussion with community partners in the local Austin area. A conference registration fee of USD $75.00 is required and includes two lunches, coffee and snacks throughout the day, and one buffet supper.
